GPS Update

From Virginia Sawicki and Bonnie Donnan

Greetings winter-weary people. This week I saw a stop sign protruding from a snow bank, the snow rising a couple feet above and behind the face of the sign. It looked like a plea to the weather rather than a command to drivers. March is when winter's grip weakens. Here's hoping.

Bob Jones presented "Saratoga County through the Years: A Mapping Project" at our February meeting. He did a wonderful job of coping when his electronics went into a state of rebellion and failed to project the planned maps. He explained the on-going project of preparing maps from different eras so layering one map on another can show the changes in an area.

The March 3rd meeting will feature a presentation by John Naple on the history of the Chuctanunda. This is the creek that flows out of Galway Lake, and the water that you are driving over in Hagaman.

We note with sadness the passing of former member Alice Radigan. We are seeking a host for our annual June picnic. I know June seems like a long time away, but think about whether you would volunteer to enjoy a couple dozen guests for an evening.
